WEDDINGS.

Cards have been received in the city announcing the marriage, on Dec. 22, at Calexico, Cal., of Miss Bennie Pulliam and Benjamin Francis.

Miss Pulliam is an El Paso girl, was born and reared in this city, and has here a host of friends.

The young couple will be at home after Jan. 1 at Estrella Ranch.

A wedding of Albuquerque people occurred Sunday at the residence of Rev. F. W. Otto, 149 Coho street. T. J. Clark and Mrs. Minnie Schopper, both of Albuquerque, were wedded by the El Paso minister. N. W. Smith and Richard Cox, friends of the groom, were present.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Sadie Baron and Ben L. Swatt were united in marriage by Rabbi Martin Zelenka.

The home was very beautifully decorated in the bridal colors, green and white. The parlors, mantels, doorways and pictures were draped with ropes of similar, held in place with bows of white satin ribbon, and bride's roses were used in artistic profusion.

In the dining room the table was handsomely set with cluny lace and held a center piece of white carnations and ferns.

Miss Rose Frankel attended the bride as maid of honor, and R. Weiss, uncle of the bride, assisted as best man.

The bride entered the parlors on the arm of her father, J. Baron, who gave her in marriage. She was beautifully gowned in white satin, with trimmings of real lace. The long tulle veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, which was worn by the bride's mother at her own wedding, and a shower bouquet of bride's roses and ferns was carried.

The maid of honor was gowned in white spangled chiffon, made over silk, and her flowers were white carnations and ferns.

The bride and groom, both of whom are El Pasoans, and have many friends here, received a magnificent collection of wedding gifts. The young couple left Sunday evening for St. Louis and Chicago, where they will spend several weeks, and will be at home to friends after Jan. 15 in this city.

The marriage of Miss Lily Brown and Sidney Hockett will occur this evening at 8:30 o'clock at Trinity M. E. church, and will be followed with a reception at the home of the groom's mother, 609 Montana street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Freddie Lurkina, to Clyde Ward Wilson, of Kokomo, Ind., the wedding to take place January 4 at the home of the bride's parents in this city.

AMUSEMENTS

"A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI."
The sale of seats for the big comedy success and political play, "A Gentleman From Mississippi," will open Friday morning at the Crawford box office. This will be the New Year attraction at the El Paso theater, Sunday and Monday, January 1 and 2, with a special holiday matinee Monday.

THE CRAWFORD THEATER.
Tonight will be the last chance to see the comedy "Father and the Boys," with "Big Bill Bittner," in the leading part. "This is the best stock production we have ever had; don't miss it," says Frank Rich. It is at the Crawford.

"THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN."
Another one of George Ade's great successes, "The County Chairman," will be the new bill at the Crawford, starting Thursday night. Manager Rich says: "This will be another great bill, for 'Big Bill,' who has made himself a great favorite in so short a time. The general verdict is the best stock company we have ever had. Get your seats at once."

BIG CHIEF MEYERS SALTING DOWN CASH

Former El Paso Ball Player Is Making a Hit in Vaudeville.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—"Big Chief" Meyers, who is the receiving end of what is probably the best known battery in the baseball world, was a headliner in a local vaudeville theater doing a turn with Christy Mathewson, the star pitcher of the New York Giants. Meyers, before he became famous in the baseball world at large, was a member of El Paso's team of five and six years ago, when Roy Hitt was the mainstay on the pitching staff and the Andrews brothers took turns at the gate and first base.

The Herald correspondent called on Meyers during his stay here and the chief recalled his days in the southwest with evident pleasure. He wanted to know if "Red" Sullivan was still playing baseball and if the game in El Paso was still the money loser it was in the old days. He admitted that he was doing pretty well financially himself these days, but added that he was salting it away, as he realized that he would not always be able to make money so easily.

Mathewson and Meyers, with a Miss Tully, appeared in a comical sketch called "Curves," written by the sporting editor (opening for N. M. Walker) of a New York daily. The two players ran for six weeks in New York to record breaking crowds and their success was continued here. This week they are in Pittsburgh, and jointly to advertise their presence in the city and aid the Red Cross, they sold thousands of the Christmas stamps of the society on the steps of the city hall in the Smoky City.

May Yone May Write a Sensational Biography

May Yone, prominently known in this country and Europe, who is thinking of writing her autobiography, chronicling the happenings of her eventful life. In speaking of her plan recently in San Francisco, the woman who once owned the famous Hope diamond said:

"I should cause earthquakes all over the world with my book. Instead of dating everything from the time of the big fire here, as they do now, people would say, 'Since May Yone wrote her book.' But I'm afraid I should have too many libel suits if I were to put in the names."

Former American Girl On The Politics Of Britain

Lady Chylesmore, the American wife of an English peer, who is a Unionist, and believes most of her countrywomen in England have the same leaning. Lady Chylesmore, who before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth French, of New York, believes that a majority of the American peeresses feel exactly as she does in politics. Lady Chylesmore says:

"It is quite absurd for people to say that the Radical party is in any sense the representative of American ideals. I have never yet heard that American principles included government by a single chamber which is practically what the Liberal or Radical program amounts to."

"I suppose that women naturally take on the political views of their husbands, and as most of the peers are, of course, Unionists, it follows that the women of their families believe the same way."

RELEASED FROM SWINDLING CHARGE

C. W. Harkrider Acquired.
Col. E. H. R. Green a Witness.

C. W. Harkrider, indicted by an El Paso grand jury on a charge of swindling in connection with the disposition of stock in the Lone Star Life Insurance company, was released from connection with the case in the 34th district court Wednesday morning, Judge Harper sustaining Harkrider's 21 exceptions to the indictment and quashing it.

Harkrider arrived in El Paso for the case, but it is understood that a continuance was to be asked in the event the indictment was not quashed. Among the out of town witnesses who were subpoenaed in the case are Col. E. H. R. Green, son of Mrs. Hetty Green, and Henry Hamilton, a retired merchant of Dallas. F. T. Stewart, president of the new Bankers Trust company, and B. F. Allen, Jr., both of Fort Worth, and John Knight of Canyon City, Texas. Harry King of Fort Worth, who, with attorney Dan Jackson, represents Harkrider, is also in the city.

All expect to return to their homes Wednesday.
